"Jitney Players" Here Saturday Eve At Silverthorne

"The Jitney Players are going to present Sheridan's 'A Trip to Scarborough' Saturday evening at 7.45 in Silverthorne Hall, Northfield Seminary.

"The Jitney Players, a group of strolling actors and actresses, have, for the past nine years, roamed around the country producing their plays at various places. They were first thought of when Bushnell Cheney and Alice Keating, his wife, were on their honeymoon. The idea was made possible by numerous wedding checks. They had a Ford truck which unfolded like a stage. This, with costumes, scenery, and other bare necessities, started the players on the road. They stopped at any rural place, and with their truck as a stage, their site any level field, their roof the heavens and their audience the farmers or the social registers of the district, they presented their plays. The plays were simple one-act ones by famous authors such as Moliere, Lady Gregory, Oscar Wilde.

"After their first summer tour, they booked engagements for the following summer. Adding many more supplies to their outfit, they set out for their second season. Following the second summer on the road, they ventured on a winter program. The plan met with immediate success. They have traveled all over the country, stopping at all important schools and colleges. This season they plan a western tour, taking them from New England across Nebraska, to New Orleans, Florida and then home. The repertoire for this season includes Sheridan's 'A Trip to Scarborough,' John Latimer's 'Murder in the Red Barn,' 'Caste' by Tom Robertson and 'Arms and Man' by George Bernard Shaw.

"The plot of 'A Trip to Scarborough' centers around a certain Tom Fashion. Tom, a penniless young man, goes to the home of his elder brother, Lord Toppington, to obtain funds. Lord Toppington is very wealthy, and his wealth is to be increased by his marriage to Miss Haydon. Disguising himself as his brother, Tom arranges an introduction to Miss Haydon's father, Sir Tumbelby Clumsy. Shortly after the introduction, the marriage between Miss Haydon and Tom takes place. The event occurs before the real Lord Toppington arrives. When the situation is finally cleared up, Lord Toppington departs in anger, and Miss Haydon and Tom receive the blessings of the family. The cast includes Miss Haydon, Ellen Love, Charles Kradoska, Harrison Dowd and Barbara Benedict."

Grand Lodge Masons To Observe Bi-centennial Local Mason Named

The Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts will observe its two hundredth anniversary this year. July 30, 1733 Right Wor. Henry Price founded duly constituted Freemasonry in America by organizing a Provincial Grand Lodge in Boston and issuing a warrant for the First Lodge in Boston. This he did under a warrant from Viscount Montague, Grand Master of Masons in England. This is the event to be celebrated. This year and on June 28 there will be a Masonic gathering in the Boston Arena and various functions will be held June 25th to the 28th. It is expected that all the local lodges of Masonry throughout the State will participate. Many Masons from England and from the various states in America will attend the various gatherings as guests. Former District Deputy R. W. Rich and G. Holton of Northfield has been named as a member of the General Committee on the Bi-centennial.

Brother of Local Druggist Plunged In Icy Waters —Companions Drown

A thrilling story comes from Lake Winnepesaukee to the effect that three men in an automobile driving on the ice on the lake last Friday broke through just above Bear Island and sank. The occupants of the car were Leo Gingras, Frank Blanchard and Maurice Fifield of Ashland, N. H. Gingras is a brother of Harry Gingras of the Northfield Pharmacy. Blanchard and Fifield lost their lives when they went down with the car in eighty feet of water. Gingras who was in the rear seat managed to jump out as the ice was breaking and although carried under was able to swim out and scramble to the top of the solid ice.

Harry Jordan and Arthur Sargent, both of Ashland were fishing in a bobhouse nearby. Upon hearing Gingras' cries for help, they took a rope from their car and ran to his assistance. Throwing him the rope, they were then able to haul him onto solid ice.

No sign was seen of his companions and Gingras was taken at once to his home for medical attention.

Blanchard was born in Ashland, Oct. 2, 1875, and had made his home in that town the greater part of his life. He leaves a son and a daughter.

Fifield is a native of Meredith where he was born Jan. 14, 1900. He was a graduate of the Ashland High School. He is survived by his mother, his wife and a daughter.

Gingras, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gingras, is an excellent swimmer and this enabled him to keep afloat until assistance reached him.

The three men left their respective homes Friday morning and drove onto the ice at Vearay point, between Meredith and Center Harbor.

They were riding in a sedan, owned and driven by Mr. Blanchard. When near the head of Bear Island they ran onto a sunken reef. Blanchard applied his brakes, but was unable to stop.

Upon hearing the news of the affair Mr. Harry Gingras telephoned from Northfield to his home and was informed that his brother although suffering from exhaustion and the experience of a cold wetting is quite comfortable and improving.

Afternoon With Faust Spent By Fortnightly

The Fortnightly Club met at Alexander Hall last Friday afternoon when Miss Marion Webster, director of music in the public schools and Miss Ethelind Sheldon, principal of the Center school presented an afternoon with Faust. The story of the opera was read by Miss Sheldon and parts of the opera rendered by her and Miss Webster and the important and best known parts were presented by Miss Sheldon, Miss Webster and others, thus giving an idea of the opera as a whole.

Miss Webster rendered several violin solos accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Webster and one vocal solo. Miss Sheldon gave a piano solo. Mrs. Leon Alexander and her daughter, Miss Juliana Alexander gave a piano duet. Rev. W. Stanley Carne sang the famous flower song. The boys' double quartet of the high school glee club sang the Soldiers Chorus and gave an unusually fine rendering. The whole glee club rendered several selections.

The program was much appreciated by those who attended.

Miss "Barbara's" Kindergarten Starts

Miss Barbara Williams will open her "Kindergarten" work on Monday morning March 6th on the second floor of the Bookstore Building, East Northfield. The following pupils are already enrolled: Gingie Steadler, Arline Finch, Edwin Finch, Junior Roberts, John Addison, David Kidder. The holding of this school affords a real opportunity for the parents of the young folks as the charges of one dollar per week are exceedingly reasonable. The class will meet from 9.30 to 11.

President Sends Message "Grateful To Northfield"

At the last Presidential election, so far as Northfield was concerned President Herbert Hoover was re-elected President by a substantial majority vote although the nation ruled otherwise. This vote of Northfield was called to the attention of the President through the publication of the result in THE NORTHFIELD HERALD together with an editorial by the Editor. In a letter received from Mr. Lawrence Richey, Secretary to the President the following communication addressed to Mr. Hoehn as editor says in part: "The President has received... and has read it with interest and appreciation. He is deeply grateful to you and to your community (Northfield) for your fine support."

Middlebury Glee Club Gave Fine Concert

The Middlebury College Glee Club gave a very fine concert last Saturday evening at Silverthorne Hall of Northfield Seminary to a capacity house and the program as published in last week's Herald was tendered.

Their voices blended splendidly in the several renditions and the solo numbers were well done. The Club arrived in Northfield in their big tourists bus on Saturday afternoon after finishing a week's series of engagements in New England.

They were entertained in the various homes in town over night and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moody accorded them a reception at the close of the concert.

The President of Middlebury College is Mr. Paul Moody a brother of Mr. William R. Moody and Mrs. A. P. Fitt.

Town Committee Organizes

The Republican Town Committee held its meeting for organization last Monday evening in the Selectmen's Room at Town Hall with a full attendance of its membership except Mr. T. F. Darby whose mother had just died. Many vital matters of interest were considered by the Committee and plans suggested for strengthening the party organization in Northfield. Mr. T. F. Darby was unanimously re-elected Chairman for the ensuing year, Mrs. W. G. Webster, Vice Chairman, and Mr. George W. Carr, Secretary Treasurer. The other members of the committee are: Charles A. Parker, Mrs. M. E. Vorce, Mrs. C. H. Miller, Mr. Charles E. Leach and Mr. William F. Hoehn.

Items Of Interest

Deerfield and Bernardston are both contemplating the organization of Taxpayers Associations. William A. Davenport of Greenfield, president of the Western Massachusetts Taxpayers' Federation will speak at both initial meetings.

At the recent annual meeting of the Millers Falls Co., Philip Rogers was elected President.

According to the Springfield Union, the people of the four western counties of Massachusetts have on deposit in the banks of this area a total of just a little less than half a billion dollars.

The name of the Connecticut Agricultural College at Storrs, Conn., has been changed by the Conn. General Assembly to the Connecticut State College.

"Auntie Up" For Everybody

The readers of the Herald have been advised to keep the evening of the tenth of March open for a High School play. Now we ask to exchange that date for the following Tuesday, March fourteenth, when Auntie will be supported by the twelve piece High School orchestra. Due to the fact that Mr. Farrell, the director of the orchestra, will be unable to be in town on the first mentioned date, it was thought best to have the play on Tuesday the fourteenth of March. (This date is final as it has been duly recorded in Mr. Field's notebook.) Aside from the fact that the orchestra undoubtedly will make a better appearance on a Tuesday than a Friday, there is no doubt but that Auntie and his associates will be on better harmony, too.

What High School boys would you choose for a College president or dean or even the greenest of Freshmen? There is a serious question as well as a "silly" one under the name. But the play is not made up entirely of boys. The capable secretary a young "college" widow and a fond mother who takes great pride in her aristocratic Virginian ancestry complete the cast of characters. Remember Tuesday, the fourteenth.

Famous Russian Violinist To Give Recital Here

Alexander Kaminsky, known as the Imperial Russian violinist, because he was a favorite soloist of Czar Nicholas II and a member of the Royal Grand Opera in Moscow, will give a recital of sacred music at the Trinitarian Church on Palm Sunday afternoon, April 9th.

Kaminsky had a remarkable conversion over two years ago, and since then has devoted his time and talents to Christian work, assisting in conventions and other special meetings. His renderings include sacred pieces and classic concertos. He usually tells something of his own life story.

There will be no admission charge at the Trinitarian Church, but a silver offering to defray expenses. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to hear this master violinist.

The Food Budget At P. T. A. Meeting

The Northfield Parent Teachers Association will hold its next regular meeting on Monday, March 6, in Alexander Hall at 7.45 p.m. At this time Mrs. Carol Miller and Mrs. Martin Vorce will present the first lecture of a series given to community leaders by Miss May E. Foley, Extension nutritionist, on "Our Money's Worth." Certain dishes will be prepared and served. This course on planning the food budget wisely is sure to be of great value to a large number of women, and all who are interested are most cordially invited to attend.

Gill

The Ladies' Aid society of the Gill Congregational Church will serve a sugar supper, Friday evening in the Gill Town Hall.

Edwin T. Williams, 68, died at his home in Gill Monday morning after a long illness. Mr. Williams was born in Gill and had lived there most of his life. Besides his widow, Adeline, he leaves two sons, Alfred D. and Edwin T., both at home. The funeral was held Wednesday with Rev. A. L. Truesdell of Bernardston officiating and burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

Rasmus was bemoaning his wife's laziness to his friend. "She's so lazy," he said, "that she done put popovers in de pancakes so they'll flap over by themselves."

Roy Hatch Again Is Chosen President Congregational Club

Mr. Roy R. Hatch of Mount Hermon, president, and most of the officers of the Franklin County Congregational club, were re-elected at the 26th winter meeting of the club at the Mansion house Tuesday evening.

Prof. L. L. Norton of East Northfield was chosen assistant secretary and Miss Myra L. Hillman was elected treasurer.

Other officers are: Vice-president, Rev. George K. Carter; secretary, Winthrop P. Abbott; auditor, Frank A. Yeaw; outlook committee, Rev. C. G. White of Millers Falls, Stephen Stark of Mount Hermon, and Charles Dole of Shelburne; membership committee, F. Raymond Andrews of Greenfield, L. J. Taplin of Deerfield and Mrs. George C. Hubbard of Sunderland; reception committee, John L. Bagg, Harry J. Wentworth and Rev. William S. Anderson, all of Greenfield.

About 100 attended the meeting. William F. Hough led community singing following dinner in the main dining room. Louis C. Smith of Mount Hermon was accepted as a new member. The meeting voted on a motion by Rev. W. S. Anderson to send a floral token of sympathy to Secretary W. P. Abbott, confined by illness, to the Franklin County Hospital. President Hatch announced that Dr. George H. Blakelee of Clark university would speak on "Japan and China" at the spring meeting in May. A past president, Rev. John A. Hawley of Amherst, formerly of Shelburne Falls, spoke briefly on the early days of the club. Five charter members were present.

The principal address was given by Rev. Dr. Robbins W. Barstow, president of the Hartford Seminary foundation. Speaking on "Technocracy and Religion," Dr. Barstow said that when technocracy first made its appearance, many looked upon it as a new sun of salvation about to shine forth on the world. Now all that is left of it is perhaps the dead stick of a skyrocket. It will still serve, he said, as a handle whereby to grasp the significance of certain trends. "Technocracy has called to our attention things to which we had become indifferent. It has reminded us of the great advance in the atomization of life and the replacement of handcraft by the labor of machines. These changes are both interesting and important because they have contributed to the existence of technological unemployment.

"The crux of the whole problem of mechanized modern life is the human factor. I do not think the technocrats have given us the answer to this problem of the human factor. Technology does not touch the motivations of men and the human motive is all important. We must have a new human motivation, a new emphasis on life values, and right here is where religion comes in. Nothing can take the place of religion in reshaping the motives of human action, and the only way to change these motives is by a sort of inner fermentation, a conditioning factor taking place from the inside of men. I am not thinking of any particular creed. Creeds are relatively unimportant. I am thinking more of man's interpretation of the universe and the place of man in it. With all our distractions and distortions, the complexities of modern life, they can be woven into a symmetrical pattern by religion.

"What to do about it? First, face the facts of human selfishness, exclusiveness and race prejudice rampant in lives and governments. Next, realize the responsibility of every human life. As St. Paul said, let every man bear his own burden in the readjustments and sacrifices that must be made. We must reduce the extremes of poverty and riches and try to lay hold of an inner concept of materialistic facts and happenings. Only when we do shall we take full advantage of what technocracy has done for us."

Business Women To Have Gathering

The Franklin County Business and Professional Women's Club, at a public relations dinner in the Walden Hotel on the evening of March 7, will have as the principal speaker, Mrs. Marie Perry Stafford, daughter of Admiral Perry. She will talk on her experiences in the Arctic. Mr. and Mrs. Roy French of Orange, who will be guests of the Misses Marjorie and Dorothy Davenport, will bring with them several young girls who will entertain with dancing and singing.

The club has several members in Northfield who expect to be in attendance.

With The Girls' Club

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fitt last Friday evening some twenty members of the Girls Club held their usual meeting. Mrs. H. M. Haskell with Mrs. Randall and Mrs. Esther Williams kindly assisted the girls with their knitting. During the evening Mr. William R. Moody paid a visit and talked most interestingly of his visit to Admiral Fisher of the English Navy who at the time was a guest of the Duke and Duchess of Hamilton at their castle in Scotland.

He gave a vivid description of the castle and its traditions.

County Costs Rise Taxpayers Com. Say

An increase of about 250 per cent in a period of 15 or 18 years in the cost of county government is noted in the report of the Greenfield Taxpayers' association sub-committee delegated to inquire into county expenditures which makes interesting reading to all the taxpayers of the county and bears out the contention of many that Franklin County's affairs are an increasing burden.

The report is full: "Your committee, appointed to investigate county expenditures, herewith submits the following report. They have been mindful of the fact that the voters of the town of Greenfield have no direct or even indirect control over county expenditures and they have not attempted to carry their investigation specifically to extreme limits, but have treated the matter in a more general way in order to ascertain salient and important facts.

"Their investigations show that there has been a heavy increase in the cost of county government during the past 15 or 18 years. They find that the county expenditures have increased about 2 1/2 times during this period. Some particular comparisons used by your committee have been the years 1916 and 1931. Salaries alone, during this period, have more than doubled, as, for example: The county commissioners received during 1916, $1600; in 1931, $4500. Clerical assistance in county offices was $2500 in 1916; it was $6600 in 1931, and the item is budgeted at $7560 for 1933.

"It should be borne in mind, however, that these salaries, especially the more important ones, are fixed by law and cannot be changed except by act of the Legislature; and in justice to the county officials, it should be stated that the salaries which are under their jurisdiction are not out of line with those prescribed by the state. It must be borne in mind, also, that court expenses, as well as many others, are quite beyond the power of the county officials to control and if any considerable relief is to be had in this direction it must be from the concerted efforts of all taxpayers' associations in inducing and furthering legislative action.

"In studying the complete budget of the county commissioners for 1933 and comparing it with the expenses of 1931 and 1932, the totals do not give the correct picture. For instance in 1931, the county debt was reduced $65,000, in 1932 $20,000 and for 1933 a $33,000 reduction is provided for. Interest cost the county $4250 in 1931; $20,361 in 1932 and $20,860 has been provided for 1933. These increases are due largely to the cost of the new courthouse. Clerk hire was $6600 in 1931; $6766 in 1932, and $7560 has been provided for 1933. Care of the courthouse including fuel and lights, was $8800 in 1931, $9700 in 1932, and $15,000 as provided for 1933. Were it not for the fact that highway expense, hospital expense, aid to agriculture and debt payments have been largely reduced for 1933, the county expenditures would show an increase of $75,000 over the budget figures. Furthermore, it should be noted that an emergency fund (subject to transfer) of $5,000 is provided, presumably to cover unforeseen and extra expenditures.

"Your committee is unanimously of the opinion that relief can only be had through legislative action and by the election of county commissioners more in sympathy with the necessity of lowering governmental costs."

EDITORIAL

The friends of world peace are the best friends of tax reduction as well.

The cost of war—past, present and future—is the major item in the operating cost of every great power. In this country, 72 per cent of all federal funds go for war debts, war veterans and the army and navy.

Organized destruction hits every pocketbook.

It now looks as if the Northfield Taxpayers Association will become a reality and preliminary action will be taken this Saturday evening at a meeting of its sponsors. The first meeting will be in Town Hall within ten days and the Herald will announce the date. All citizens will be included in this movement without regard to political bias and the slogan will be to "pull together" for Northfield. It will be a good time to "sacrifice" all differences and divided thoughts for the sake of loyalty and service.

"The Peterboro Transcript has been reduced in size from eight pages to four pages and the matter is now set in eight point instead of ten point as heretofore. The subscription price is reduced to one dollar."

Thus reads a news item and it is only one of many similar notices that are appearing nowadays. In common with most papers and magazines The Herald also finds it necessary to reduce to four pages owing to a limited supply of advertising. We shall publish the usual eight pages whenever the business warrants it, and would ask the indulgence of our readers during these publication days. At present The Herald is a product largely of labor and devotion upon the part of its Editor and Publisher who would be glad to court any assistance and constructive criticism.

Lent was ushered in this week, Ash Wednesday, March first and the Church has again afforded it the sacred obligations of this season. In the words of Rev. J. E. Whitman who issues his pastoral letter to the parishioners "the church out of a long experience knows that Lent wisely kept may be a distinct benefit to all his children. Most of us would be better and happier if we practiced some self denial, if we were more thoughtful and considerate of other people, if we gave some time and thought to God and our soul's welfare, if we tried to be a little more unselfish. These are opportunities which Lent offers us.

The carelessness and the recklessness of motorists on Winchester Road is appalling and the traffic will again be its usual menace to pedestrians during the coming summer and Conference season. The town must wake up to a realization that two things are necessary to do soon or else happenings may prove costly in damage suits. Winchester Road needs improvement beyond the Auditorium to Pierson Road. The highway is narrow, crooked with blind curves and running along a bank with low ground on the opposite side. Pedestrians must walk in and use the highway and if its wet and muddy soiled clothes are the result. The highway is a dangerous pathway for pedestrians but so it must be used. Reckless motorists rarely slow down and recently several auto crashes have been avoided by a narrow margin. Only last Sunday a resident of the town walking out with her dog was frightened with the onrush of a car which neither slowed up or exercised caution. He hit the dog in the narrow path and said his "brakes don't hold." Such drivers should be banished from our highways.

Well any way local residents now propose to get at some of these fellows and a stop is going to be put on them.

Obituary

MRS. ANNA SMITH PROCTOR

From Brattleboro the death is reported of Mrs. Anna Smith Proctor 94 years of age of that city who passed away last Wednesday and whose funeral was held February 24th from her home with burial in Westmoreland, N. H.

She was born at Westmoreland, September 14, 1838, a daughter of Ralph and Susan (Pitt) Smith. She married Francis W. Proctor and until his death in 1890, her home was at Westmoreland. Since then she has lived with her son, W. H. Proctor. She also leaves another son, R. E. Proctor of Keene, and a granddaughter, Miss Vesta Proctor of Highland Avenue, Northfield.

MARY BROWN DARBY

Mrs. Mary Brown Darby died last Saturday at the Darby home on Maple Street to which she had gone recently for a from her home at Norwich Conn. She had been in ill health for some time.

Mary Brown Darby was born in Bolton, Conn., in 1871, the daughter of Richard Brown and Mary Smith Brown and was a resident of Northfield for some years after her marriage to Theodore Darby of Northfield. The family later moved to Connecticut.

She is survived by her husband and two children, Theodore Darby of Northfield and one daughter, Esther M. Magnan, of Norwich, Conn. with whom she made her home. There are four grandchildren, Mrs. Darby was interested in the work of the Eastern Star and was a member of the local chapter. Her funeral was held at Kiddle's funeral parlors in Northfield Tuesday afternoon, Rev. W. Stanley Carne officiating. Interment was in the Center Cemetery.

Poet's Corner

WHAT MORE?

What more could I ask,
Than a tiny hut,
With a garden row on row;
With a few tall trees
And a small white gate,
And windows all aglow?
What more do I want
Than a cherry fire,
With a brightly burning log;
With an easy chair,
And a story book,
And the friendship of my dog?
What more is my share
Than a little land,
And a hut by the river's bend,
And a long road winding
Into town
And an evening chat with a friend.

What more do I want,
Than a tiny hut,
When the happy day is spent,
There's the simple food
By an open fire,
There'd be peace and sweet content.

The Grave Of Roger Williams

"The grave of Roger Williams is unknown."—Daily Paper.

The grave of Roger Williams That World which with disdain Survey him in his life time, Seeks after now—in vain!

Time—the obliterator Has done his work so well There is no clue to lead us No sign by which to tell.

The grave of Roger Williams No human being knows; Nor where his clay is crumbling Nor where his bones repose!

Mysteriously—obscurely— The same, good man who taught New England toleration Has vanished sure in thought!

The grave of Roger Williams From human eye is hid, We know the truths he uttered, We know the deeds he did.

We know the wrongs he suffered But not the resting place His brothers fashioned for him When he had run his race.

Perhaps in quaint old Newport Grave men in garb as quaint, With reverent labor hallowed A cell to house a saint!

In Providence, it may be, That men with brow of gloom With sorrow in their bosom Hewed out for him a tomb.

Perhaps at Narragansett The silent form they laid; Or in Woonsocket's grave-yard The burial place was made.

It maybe that they laid him Where runs a city street; Within a forest maybe His resting place is sweet.

But whether in the noisy town Or in the wood alone, In spite of all the multitude He sleeps today unknown.

No stately shaft of marble white Carrara's breast has given To tell the beauties of his life And point the path to Heaven!

No chiseled granite tells his worth, Nor moulded bronze his fame; Nor lettered mortuary urn His sacred dust can claim.

His dust indeed has vanished But we who daily reap The golden fruit he planted His resolutions keep!

The grave of Roger Williams Is lost, somewhere—somehow— But the soul of Roger Williams Walks out among us now!

And when his time and record With candid eyes I scan, I name him, un-reservedly, The first American!

Elijah's grand translation In sacred writ is told; And how God fashioned Moses grave.

On Moab dark and cold; But the grave of Roger Williams— Prophet of a later day By Oblivian's murky waters Has been whelmed — and washed away!

UNCLE SI GOES "A-SUGARIN"

Come, Mandy, help me jest a mite, Fer its most time fer tappin'. I know the snow is still some deep, But Spring has come a-rappin'.

How do I know its sugarin' time? I can't explain my sensin', But I kin feel it in the air, That Spring is sure commencin'.

At midday now the sun is warm, The little buds is swellin'. The pussy willows peekin' out, I heard a black crow yellin'.

My old blood sort of flows up quick, Like sap in maples runnin'. I'd like ter scramble up the hill, Then set and take a-sunnin'.

Now, Mandy, you show signs of Spring, By tuckin' the house cleanin'. But allus when I git that feel, I sure know what the meanin'.

Then jest git powerful hungry Fer the smell o' sap a-boilin'.

Ter hear the wood all cracklin' red And see the steam a-rollin'. So git the spouts and fix 'em up, And the buckets start a-cleanin'.

While I fuss 'round the sugar house, And find the sled fer teamin'. Guess I'll hire Sim Allen's boy, He's right smart fer workin'.

Won't waste his time a-foolin' 'round, Don't want nobody shirkin'. 'Pears to me the Lord's sure good, Ter fix all Nature's treasures.

Per humans jest ter help themselves, He knows no stint nor measure. We jest have to bore a hole And do a little boilin'.

Ter git the finest tastin' food, With jest a mite o' tollin'. The ground and trees is all fixed up Ter help poor human critters.

If we'd jest do our share o' work And stop our grumblin' bitter. 'Bout how the world is goin' wrong.

Why now the Spring's a-comin'! I jest can't wait fer sugarin' time Ter see the sap a-runnin'!

Greetings From Florida

1820 28th Ave. North
St. Petersburg, Fla.
February 24, 1938.

To the Editor of The Herald:— May we please have the address of our paper changed to the above address?

As I sat out in the sunshine on our upper porch this morning, February 24th early to welcome in another perfect day I had brought me the St. Petersburg Daily Times.

It is the finest daily paper we ever read, full of world news, as well as all the happenings of this busy city. I noted that the registration of winter visitors for the city had reached 26,900 which was a gain of well over 3,000 more than last winter.

Though getting late in the season 269 registered yesterday and among them were Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Frary, Mrs. W. P. Stanley and Mrs. E. F. Howard of East Northfield. And then I was reminded that we have begun our fifth week here. It does not seem possible. All remark of this busy life by here with amazing rapidity.

We had a very pleasant trip down with good roads all the way. Overnight cabins seemed to be interspersed just where we needed them; they were even more comfortable and better equipped than we expected and very much more reasonable. Several nights we paid but $2.50 for the entire family.

We took the shortest sea-level route and took our time stopping at Lansdowne and at Washington as well as two nights in Florida before coming to this city. Even then the eighth day found us very nicely settled here in apartments upstairs, where we get a much better breeze. The girls occupy one apartment as they each need a quiet room to themselves to study in.

Although many northern pupils have been kept out of school for two weeks on arrival, as a quarantine precaution, ours all slipped easily into their proper places Monday morning and have found the change of schools interesting and beneficial, even though their loyalty is stronger than ever for N. H. S. The Senior High school has over 1200 pupils, located in a new million dollar building. Much of the work seems to be college grade and difficult. With chapel and gymnasium, cafeteria, musicals and lectures the young people keep occupied. All schools open at 8.30 a.m. Ours have to take the bus at 7.30 a.m., and get home about 4 p.m. There are four Junior or High Schools in the city. Pupils are entering and leaving schools daily because of the unusual tourist situation.

As to the city itself it is the most beautiful one we ever visited. I like it better than Honolulu or southern California. The very wide streets, palm lined, the tropical vegetation and coloring, the Spanish type bungalows or the garage apartments, the large hotels, the arcades, the citrus stands,—it is all fascinating. A visitor recently put the following in the St. Petersburg Times, "I venture to say that the old people visiting St. Petersburg have a better time here than any other place on earth. They fraternize with one another, play bridge, go to movies, go to concerts, play shuffleboard, disport themselves on the beach, get lots of good things to eat, are full of pep, and no one tries to gouge them. Where else on this continent or any other can this combination be beaten?"

There is a daily band concert at Williams Park where we go and watch the elderly couples from all over the nation, and Canada as well, and listen to choice music and a different spectacle daily. One day we say Miss Halkorth of East Northfield passing. We found Mr. and Mrs. Whitman formerly of Northfield living near us and see them often. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stratton of Bernardston live just round the corner. Friends from Rochester, N. Y., are stopping on the same avenue. My once-upon-a-time college room mate comes over to call. Home is not so far away when mail comes through in two and a half days and is delivered to us twice a day. When you have a cold spell we get a whiff of it though we have not been lower here than 44 degrees above.

This is well named the Sunshine City as the sun shines almost every day in the year; the days it does not show up at all the newspapers are given away! The sidewalks are very wide so that 5,000 green benches (each holding four or five) have been scattered all over the city sidewalks at right angles with the streets and these afford places to rest and visit. These benches, the covered walkways, the outdoor postoffices, the scores of arcades, all seem peculiar to this city.

Although we have had many beautiful drives (to Clearwater and Tarpon Springs, to Pass-a-Grille Island etc.) and have heard several very fine and noted speakers, been to cooking school and lectures, I know we have not yet touched the fringe of the good things provided. Sunday we were on the roof of the Don Ce-Sar Beach Hotel overlooking the Gulf of Mexico and saw one of the most beautiful views in the world. The hotel itself cost $2,200,000 to build. Not far away are the new buildings of the National Soldiers Home.

There are over fifty Protestant churches of every kind imaginable and they are most wise awake. Some of them have to hold two forenoon and two evening sessions to accommodate the crowds. It is not unusual for hundreds to be turned away. They are open through the week and there are missionary rallies and Prohibition campaigns, revival meetings and daily Bible classes and suppers and musicals. The north attends them and often supplies the speakers.

As for the very low cost of a home, or rentals or meals I better not write or more will be coming down. Excellent three and four course meals are served in many attractive places for only a quarter. Others advertise a meal for twenty cents. In a place of so much competition there must needs be many clever advertising schemes to get the trade. Bargain sales at the order of the day, and auctions. But we can do even better than my friend and her daughter who take each meal at a different place when we cook in our wee kitchenette and get twenty-five buttermilk for fifteen cents, the tenderest spinach for a cent and a half a pound, fresh eggs for fifteen cents. Butter for a penny each. Homemade pies are twenty cents. There is plenty of fruit and fresh vegetables. One has only to look at the grocery advertisements in the daily paper to get dizzy over vegetable bargains. Such attractive stores. Fowls are displayed alive and dressed after purchased. Strawberries keep around ten cents a quart with very full baskets. Fresh mulberry pie, guava, and other fruits remind us of China.

Local papers complain of the effects of depression on the crops and tell of 2,000 acres of celery to be plowed under. Public sentiment at last saved the celery and the growers agreed to give it to the state charitable institutions which did not buy celery. Then the citrus dealers of the state declared an eight-day vacation from picking any citrus fruit but of all the many citrus groves we have driven by we have not yet seen any being picked and the trees hang full.

The sponge industry has been hard hit. The south has suffered far more than the north. The relics, remains and ruins of the boom time are distressing. But there is a slow, steady, real upward growth here and there is bound to be with such a climate. Even though For Sale and For Rent signs can be counted by the hundreds,—they are everywhere—and one can get a home at their own price, move and more are staying down the year round and finding Florida a permanent home. Our section of the city is made up almost entirely of small homes and nearly everyone we meet will tell you he or she came from Indiana or Maine or the west three, five or maybe seven years ago and liked it so well they stayed on. Which is no argument that we shall want to. But if one can he should spend at least a season here and build up health and inspiration and enjoy the northern home more than ever when one gets back to their own peculiar customs and habits. We are glad we came, we like it for a time. But as much as we like the tropics we find we are still northern people.

With greetings and best regards to all the many friends at home.

Mrs. William H. Giebel

Real Estate Transfers
Of Interest Hereabouts

The following transfers of real estate have recently been filed at Franklin County Registry:

Leon F. Nelson of Bernardston has transferred about 14 acres of land in Bernardston to Ethel H. Streeter of the same town. Bell H. Porter of Bernardston to Clara L. and Raymond B. Crozier of Northfield, land in Bernardston; Alonzo B. and Raymond B. Crozier of Northfield to Bell H. Porter of Bernardston, land and buildings in Northfield on the westerly side of the Gill-Vernon Road.

Gen. Oglethorpe Stamps

The Northfield Post Office has received a limited supply of the new General Oglethorpe three cent postage stamp.

These stamps are issued to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the settlement of Georgia, and in honor of General Oglethorpe, the founder of the colony. These stamps are of the three-cent denomination and are of the same size and color as the ordinary three-cent stamp. The central subject of the stamp is the likeness of General Oglethorpe, wearing a coat of armor. The stamps were first placed on sale at Savannah, Ga., Feb. 12, and other postoffices have been supplied as promptly as production would permit.

Jurors Are Chosen

Preparations for the March sitting of the superior court have been completed and the session will open on March 13 with Justice Thomas F. Hammond of Northampton presiding in the new court house at Greenfield.

Among the grand jurors chosen are Fred G. Huber of Northfield, Earl W. Montgomery of Greenfield, Ernest Nelson of Bernardston.

Among the traverse jurors chosen are Robert H. Le Vitre of Gill, and Waldo H. Stebbins of Northfield.

Trinitarian Church

Next Sunday evening the morning choir of the Trinitarian church will give a sacred concert in the church, under the direction of Prof. Irving J. Lawrence of Mount Hermon. In addition to the choir selections there will be solos by members of the choir.

The Sunday School has arranged for a teacher-training class to be held the first and third Thursdays of the month in the young people's room. Tea or coffee will be served for a basket lunch at 6 o'clock. The class will assemble at 6.45 for 30 minutes or so, dismissing in time for the prayer meeting.

The Sunday school lessons will be studied at each session. A. P. Pitt will be the leader in charge. These gatherings are open to all who wish to study the Bible.

South Church

Rev. Mrs. Conner will help the church to realize the spiritual meaning of Lent, by a Course of study in "Great Experiences of Jesus as follows:—

March 5, 12, 19 and 26th. Also April 2 and 9th.

Next Sunday the subject considered in the church worship beginning at 10.45 "Jesus in the Wilderness."

In the evening at 7.30 o'clock, the slide pictures will be shown and the story told of "The Shepherd of the Hills."

Thursday March 9th at 2.30 o'clock the Alliance will meet with Mrs. E. M. Morgan with Mrs. J. W. Field assisting hostess. The leader, Mrs. Robert Wilder will present the subject, "What other church women are doing?" responded to by Mrs. Edgar J. Livingston who will speak on "The Mothers' Society."

Mrs. L. A. Alexander on our work for temperance. Mrs. A. G. Moody on the Woman's Missionary. Mrs. Carl Mason on the Evening Auxiliary.

This meeting will welcome all ladies from the other churches who wish to attend.

Seminary Items

Scholarship Honors for the first term at the Northfield Seminary were announced last Saturday by the principal, Mrs. B. Wilson in morning chapel. The list includes the 20 ranking scholars of the school, which numbered more than 500 last term. Thirteen out of the 20 reside in New England, and two are from Canada. Nine are seniors and three are juniors.

The scholarship list follows: Mary Alden, White River Junction, Vt.; Margaret Aileen, South Hero, Vt.; Bernice Andrews, Georgetown, Mass.; Eleanor Applebee, North Haverhill, N. H.; Elizabeth Atanasoff, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; Elizabeth Bunce, Sherman, Conn.; Mary Chute, Naples, Me.; Ellen Dix, Pine Grove, Pa.; Elinor Guy, Longmeadow, Mass.; Henrietta Henderson, Durham, N. H.; Ellen Hicks, New Brunswick, Canada; Mildred Lawson, Meriden, Conn.; Constance McNaughton, Nashua, N. H.; Rebecca Meera, Cape May, N. J.; Phyllis Parker, Bedford, Mass.; Phyllis Paton, Montreal West, Canada; Beatrice Reed, Rochester, N. Y.; Elizabeth Swift, Portland, Oregon; Gene White, Matawan, N. J.; and Cynthia Widdoes, Swampscott, Mass.

"Rev. Patrick Murphy Malin, Professor of Economics at Swarthmore College, is to be the speaker at Russell Sage Chapel on Sunday, March fifth."

"The Juniors of Northfield Seminary were the guests of the Juniors at Hermon last Saturday evening and attended the movie 'Phantom Express.'"

Rev. William N. DeBerry of the Dunbar Community League of Springfield gave a most interesting address at Sage Chapel last Sunday. At the Vesper Service Mr. Ernest Johnson of Boston a negro tenor rendered very acceptably an hour of music largely "spirituals."

Miss Elizabeth Nicely who is a recent graduate of the Conservatory of Music will repeat her graduate recital in Philips Hall on Sunday evening March 5th at 7.30 o'clock. Miss Nicely is a former Seminary student.

Items Of Interest

The Grand Lodge of Georgia laid the corner-stone of the new $3,000,000 post office at Atlanta, Ga., on Saturday, February 11, 1933. William B. Clarke, of Savannah, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, officiated at the ceremonies, and Governor Eugene Talmadge made the principle address.

Mrs. Roosevelt Speaks On Religious Matters

As wife of the President-elect, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will occupy the White House on and after March 4 as First Lady of the land. That fact justifies the public feeling and interest in her religious and economic views. In recognition, apparently, of that interest, she has contributed a statement to The Forum magazine, of which a New York Associated Press dispatch gives this summary:

"The next Lady of the White House is an Episcopalian, but she doesn't feel that her particular creed makes her either better or worse than those who belong to any other church.

"To me religion has nothing to do with any specific creed or dogma," writes Mrs. Roosevelt. "It means that belief and that faith in the heart of a man which makes him try to live his life according to the highest standard which he is able to visualize."

"To those of us who were brought up as Christians that standard is the life of Christ, and it matters very little whether our creed is Catholic or Protestant. "To those of us who happen to have been born and brought up under other skies or in other creeds the object to be attained goes by some other name, but in all cases the thing which counts is the striving of the human soul to achieve spiritually the best that it is capable of, and to care unselfishly not only for personal good, but for the good of all those who toil with them upon the earth."

For conquering the fear which she says is the worst thing that has come from the depression, the wife of the President-elect asserts that "we need some of the old religious spirit which said, 'I myself am weak but Thou art strong, O Lord!' That was the spirit which brought people to this country, which settled it, which carried men and women through untold hardships, and which has given us our heritage of comparative ease and comfort."

Mrs. Roosevelt says she believes "in the habits of regular church going and regular work for the church," but that "the fundamental, vital thing which must be alive in each human consciousness is the religious teaching that we cannot live for ourselves alone, and that as long as we are here on this earth we are all of us brothers, regardless of race, creed or color."

Errors Of Omission

In the account of the Progressive Party of the Friendly Class in last week's Herald our worthy correspondent forgot to refer to the call at the home of Mrs. W. Stanley Carne after the soup was served at Mrs. Forsaith. Mrs. Carne it is said put up a "feast" of good things and the class really appreciated her splendid cooking and service. Then again the week previous the class to the number of 38 enjoyed a splendid supper with Mrs. Samuel E. Walker at her home on Pine Street and this social event was not recorded. Well The Herald is sorry — we knew nothing about it. Won't the Friendly Class please report its activities?

Christian Endeavor

Last Monday evening a sleigh ride was thoroughly enjoyed by the Christian Endeavor. The ride terminated at the home of the President, Francis Reed, where delicious refreshments were served.

Next Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor will meet in the church vestry and will have as guest speakers, Mr. Adams, Supt. Utes Gospel Mission of Ute, New York and Mr. Eugene Garvey of the McAuley Gospel Mission of New York City. It is to be an open meeting and many visitors from neighboring churches are expected.

Everready 4-H Club

The Everready 4-H Club had another meeting February 28th with a 100% attendance. The President led in the club pledge and creed after which came the roll call.

The Leader asked each member questions about the correct way of using tools and etc. Those who had not finished their tool chests worked on them while the others worked on broom holders. We expect to make several hundred of the broom holders to sell and the proceeds will go toward the Camp Fund for the boys. At the conclusion of the meeting we had games and a prize was given to the winner in the contest. Raymond Miller was the winner.

The 4-H Clubs of the town are planning a joint display of articles made by the clubs. They will also sell these articles and the money will go toward the camp fund. Mr. Taber at Mount Hermon, through his agent, Mr. Cox, has very generously given us permission to use the old Press Office for this purpose. This will make us an excellent display room.

Portuguese Tomatoes

2 cups cooked meat
6 large tomatoes
2 cups gravy
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Salt and pepper
Peel the tomatoes and simmer them gently in the gravy, adding the seasoning to them. When the tomatoes are tender but have not lost their shape, skin them out and put where they will keep hot. Heat the meat in the gravy and make rounds of toast. Serve the meat on the buttered toast with a tomato on top of each.

High School Notes

Three reels of motion pictures were shown to the school by a member of the Health Council from Boston. One very interesting film indicated how good posture might be obtained. The second showed an experiment on the growth of white rats, some of which were fed harmful foods and others healthful foods. The third was on the formation of health habits leading to better health. A Health Council is soon to be organized in the school which will be composed of students who will work to better all vital health and sanitation problems.

The Home Nursing class has learned how to take temperatures, the use and application of hot water bags and ice caps and how to give steam inhalations under the direction of Mrs. Lilly.

On last Wednesday and Thursday mornings, Rose Ladinski and Ruth Slaght respectively, gave oral themes. Monday morning Edna Sliva told us the story of "Edward Randolph's Picture," by Hawthorne.

The members of the Faculty attended the dinner given by Mrs. Montague, a member of the school board, for the teachers of the town. Part of the evening was given over to a progressive jig-saw party and the rest to a variety of games.

In order to help the school board balance its reduced budget, the high school will have two weeks vacation beginning March 17.

As a result of the old-fashioned dance held in the town hall on Washington's Birthday, the Washington trip fund is $26 richer. The Seniors wish to express their appreciation to the committee in charge.

We know you want to hear more about "Auntie." See and hear for yourself by being at the town hall, Friday evening, March 10. Be sure not to miss it! Bring the family! An added attraction will be the high school orchestra. The play will introduce to a Northfield audience at least one new star actor. In the role of Gusie Jones, Robert de Veer, '34 will provoke a good many laughs. In fact, there is so much comedy in the play that it is sometimes difficult to rehearse.

Speedaway 4-H Club

We held our fifth meeting at Mrs. Hale's home. The secretary read her report and called the roll. We repeated the club pledge and creed. Mrs. Hale our club leader showed us how to make seams and the girls were making sofa pillow covers and holders. We have two new members in our club. They are Hazel and Ethel Hammond.

The Child Reader

by
MARJORIE BARROWS
Editor, Child Life Magazine.

(One afternoon many years ago a wharf rat on San Francisco Bay wandered into the Oakland Public Library there, opening a bound volume of a children's magazine, he stumbled upon a story. It was a story about a boy like him self — a runaway, a gang leader of wharf rats, who had certain semipit adventures, but who, after a hard lesson, learned of better ways of living his life.

Making of Jack London. The dramatic, exciting story awoke in the young reader the unconsciousness of his own wrong actions. He walked out of that library resolving to lead just as adventurous a life but one that carried with it a clear conscience. So he joined the Fish Patrol, cruised about the bay fought poachers, and before long began to write stories about his adventures.

That boy was Jack London. The experience of this famous writer occurs in a rather less dramatic fashion, in the life of every boy or girl.

Careful investigators have discovered that next to persons, nothing has more influence on children than what they read. If a hero they admire acts under certain circumstances as they themselves would like to act, they'll remember it.

They imitate the hero. And when the time comes they'll unconsciously be influenced by that hero's action and try to do like wise. The heroine's kindness, ambition, steadfastness, loyalty, the hero's resourcefulness, quick-wittedness, pains-taking qualities, courage, magnanimity, modesty—all these examples "sink in" and are emulated both now and later. One story with hidden character-building values is worth a dozen sermons from parents or teachers.

Let us try to see that this sort of a story full of plenty of adventure for the boy full of interesting plots and characters for the girl is common to them to pick up.

Jack London isn't the only one to be tremendously influenced by the printed word.

Ernest Everett Stratton, 71, formerly proprietor of a jewelry store here many years, died Monday of last week at Maplewood Hospital, Westmoreland, where he had been receiving treatment the past two months.

Born in Northfield, Mass., April 19, 1861, he was the only son of Albert S. and Nancy (Drake) Stratton. At an early age he learned the jeweler's trade in Athol. In 1887 he bought the jewelry store of H. C. Holland of this town and continued in business in the Stebbins block more than 25 years. He married in 1878 Miss Dora Stearns of this town, who died in 1927. Two children were born to the couple, Eva, wife of Clarence D. Fay of this town, and Ida, wife of Henry A. Spitznberger of Bellows Falls. He also leaves two grandchildren, Misses Marjorie and Priscilla Fay.

The funeral was held at Lamb's funeral home Wednesday at 2 P. M. Burial took place in Pine Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Meany, 52, wife of David Meany, died Thursday of last week at Brattleboro Memorial Hospital, where she had been for medical treatment.

Elizabeth Abbina Hennessey was born in North Walpole, N. H., Dec. 9, 1880, a daughter of James and Frances (Ryan) Hennessey. She attended the schools of North Walpole and was graduated from Bellows Falls High School in 1897. On Oct. 8, 1907, she married David M. Meany of Brattleboro, where the couple made their home until their removal to Hinsdale in 1919.

Mrs. Meany was a communicant of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. She endeared herself to a

INVEST IN AN ELECTRIC STOVE FOR ECONOMY

There's sound common sense behind investments that help balance the family budget. They bring the economies of modern methods to the home. It's just one of the reasons why so many people are turning to electric cookery.

Foods shrink less in the fast, even heat of the electric oven... vitamins and mineral salts that make meals more tasty are preserved... new hours of freedom from kitchen cares are saved for the busy homemaker.

All in all, the electric range gives a tremendous return in comfort and convenience for only a penny or two per person per meal.

Investigate the many advantages of electric cookery now.

Citizens Take Notice Taxpayers Meeting Called Monday Eve

The tax payers of Northfield will gather at the Town Hall on Monday evening, March 13 at 8 o'clock for a session in regard to protecting their interests and to work for better and more economical government. Hon. W. A. Davenport of Greenfield, President of the Western Massachusetts Tax Payers Association will be the principal speaker. He will tell of the organization of the tax payers in other towns and of the success of the movement. The meeting is being called by Mr. R. O. Leach and a committee who state that the object of the meeting is to consider ways and means by which those who pay the taxes may obtain fair representation in town, county and state affairs, may work effectively for economy in government, and may assure the taxpayer that he is getting his money's worth in increased efficiency on the part of all departments. A preliminary meeting of the tax payers of Northfield was called at the town hall previous to the last town meeting at which time it was decided to call another meeting later for the purpose of deciding on plans for a permanent organization. Much interest was shown in the preliminary meeting, over seventy tax payers being present. It is expected that the group on Monday will organize for the future. All tax payers interested are invited to attend this organization meeting.

No Institute At Williamstown This Year

Dr. Harry A. Garfield, President of Williams College and Director of the Institute of Politics made a definite statement in Boston recently in an address to the Williams College Alumni Association that the usual sessions of the Institute of Politics will not convene in Williamstown this coming summer.

It was the first definite statement of Dr. Garfield concerning the future of the conferences since last September when he suggested that the Institute be abandoned unless a permanent endowment could be obtained and its program broadened.

As a substitute for the Institute conferences that during the 11 years of their existence attracted international attention, work has begun on the formation of an international round table with a staff of internationally known leaders who will act under an endowment.

Parent-Teacher Association

A large number of mothers and teachers attended the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Monday evening, March 6, at Alexander Hall. After the regular business in charge of Mrs. Birdsal, Mrs. Carroll Miller and Mrs. M. E. Vorce gave interesting reports of the lecture by Miss May Koley of the Extension Service on "Your Money's Worth" which they recently attended in Greenfield. Many suggestions were made in regard to nourishing but inexpensive meals some of which can be served for about seven cents a person. Three of these dishes—squash casserole, cabbage slaw, and whole wheat bread sandwiches—were prepared and served to all present by Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Vorce.

At the next meeting early in April Mr. L. W. Robbins will speak and there will be a question box in charge of Mrs. Frank Montague.

His 80th Birthday

Myron A. Billings of Millers Falls celebrated his 80th birthday Monday at the home of his son, Roger who operates a large farm on the state road leading to Northfield. He was born at Northfield, February 26, 1853. When a young man he went west and for a number of years lived near Osawatomia, Kan. In March, 1888 he married Miss Luella Bartlett of that town and the couple came to Millers Falls where for 34 years Mr. Billings operated a farm on the state road about a mile and a half east of Millers Falls. About 10 years ago Mr. Billings sold his farm and since that time both he and his wife have spent the major part of their time with their children.

The High School Play

All is in readiness for the "big show" at Town Hall on Tuesday evening March 14th when before a crowded house the High School student thespians will entertain their friends. The show is called "Auntie Up" and is a striking and entertaining comedy of three acts. The curtain will rise promptly at eight o'clock.

The cast is as follows:
Dr. Graves—President of Elmhurst College, Victor Vaughan;
Dr. Blimp, The Dean, Ralph Reed;
Sally Caldwell, The Secretary, Polly Fudenberg;
"Ellick" Graves, The President's Son, Ralph Kerrigan;
Augustus Jones, A Freshman, Robert DeVoor;
King Rayner, A Senior, Milton Tyson;
Mrs. Jones, A Fond Mother, Barbara Cota;
Bobo Warren, A College Widow, Virginia Mann.
Be sure that you don't miss this show of shows!

Women's Federation To Have A Conference

The District Conference of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs for Western Massachusetts will be held at the First Church of Christ in Longmeadow on Tuesday March 14th.

The Hampden County Women's Club and the Longmeadow Women's Club will serve as hostesses. Mrs. Fred B. Cross, director of the 14th district, chosen general chairman of the affair, will be assisted by a large committee.

Officers of the State Federation who have signified their intention of being present include: President, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett of Cliftondale; vice-presidents, Mrs. John H. Kimball of Danvers and Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth of Winchester; recording secretary, Mrs. Edward M. Cox of Milton; general federation director, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader.

Special features of the gathering will be brief, snappy presentation of activities of the federation and information by all state division chairmen. Round-table discussions for all types of club activities will also be carried on. A special round table for presidents of the various clubs will be conducted by the president of the federation, Mrs. Bennett to "The President Presides" lessons in parliamentary problems, will be given by Mrs. George A. Mellen, state parliamentarian.

Music by the Springfield Women's Club chorus will open the afternoon session, and will be followed by the presentation of "The Door of Opportunity," a peasant portraying club work in this section, the cast of which will be made up of local women. Community and highway beautification activities of the various clubs will be presented by chairmen in charge of this work, and Mrs. Ernestine Perry will give a talk on "Highway Beautification."

A roll call of the 14th, 15th and 16th district clubs will be conducted and honors will be given the club with the largest percentage of attendance, and to the club from the greatest distance. An opportunity to meet officers, leaders and members of the club family on intimate terms will be presented at this time, as well as the opportunity to gain ideas that will help an individual club work.

Luncheon will be served at noon by the Benevolent Society of the First Church of Christ at Longmeadow, at the Longmeadow Community house. Reservations must be made by noon Saturday, the 11th.

Turners Falls Starts Weekly Newspaper

Turners Falls is to have a weekly newspaper and the name is The Turners Falls Enterprise. The first issue will come this week from the presses of the Northfield Printing Co. and the paper will circulate largely in Turners Falls and Riverdale.

Its publisher will be Denis J. Shea, well known as owner of the Shea Theatre. Harold E. LeVane, former representative of the Recorder-Gazette, will be the editor and advertising manager.

The editor and the publisher have announced they have no intentions of competing with any daily newspaper but they believe there is a place for a weekly. They feel Turners Falls should have a newspaper exclusively its own.

Success to The Enterprise.

Dickinson Library has another loan of fifteen books in the Polish language, from the State Library. The titles are attractive and cover a variety of subjects.

Lives in hte Making, by Henry Newman Ph. D. has been loaned our library by the State for one month. This is a valuable book for teachers and parents to secure.

Here is a complete and concrete survey of the methods of building character in young people. It considers the possibilities and functions of all agencies to this end, including the home, the school, the college, community practices, the church, and industry. Not only does it define the ideals of the life of positive morality, but for each ideal it suggests definite means of attainment. Applying all the resources of modern psychology and sociology to the problem, the author deals frankly and fully with such important topics to parents as home conditions and relationships, the community's responsibility for the protection of its young citizens, worklife, and religious education. Although setting a high standard of right living the book takes into account all the conditions of the modern age. Embodying the author's rich experience in the ethical culture movement, the volume will appeal immediately to parents, educators, clergymen and everyone interested in the welfare of our youth.

Bank Holiday Ordered By State And Nation

In obedience of orders issued from Washington, the Northfield National Bank in common with all other banks and financial institutions in the United States closed for a bank holiday on last Saturday morning. Through the daily press the public are now pretty well familiar with the facts and the situation and all citizens are requested to be patient while the Government is working out a solution of the banking problem. There may be many hardships and inconveniences to bear but in the end it may help the nation to move up and out of the "trough of depression" which has too long encompassed us.

Death Of Well Known Millers Falls Man

Edwards Miller Partridge, 70, well-known Millers Falls man with many friends and acquaintances in Northfield died Sunday, February 26th at his home there.

He was born in Royalton, December 28, 1862, the son of Herman M. and Emily (Miller) Partridge. He made his home there until his marriage in 1887 to Miss Lottie B. Swasey of Athol.

Following his marriage he worked as a drug clerk in Athol, Springfield and Worcester, coming to Millers Falls in 1889 where he opened a drug store, which he operated for 32 years. He sold the business in 1921. In 1889 he also started the Millers Falls Telephone exchange which he owned and operated until 1930. He sold this to the New England Telephone company. In 1891 he started an insurance business, which he carried on successfully until his death.

Mr. Partridge was held in high regard as a citizen and businessman. While he never held public office, he was always interested in civic projects. He was for several years a member of the board of directors of the Crocker National Bank of Turners Falls. He was a 32nd Mason.

He was a member of the Congregational Church. Beside his wife who survives him, he leaves one son Carl and two daughters.

Paper Changes Hands

The Enterprise and Journal of Orange, a weekly newspaper has changed management. The printing plant has been sold by John S. Whitman to Roy W. French who has been Editor of the paper for the past twenty years.

Mr. Whitman will retire from the business after a long period of association with the printing trade in Orange and Boston. During his many years' residence in Orange, he has taken a leading role in social, fraternal and civic activities and merits a rest and a change from constant application to business and community affairs.

Mr. French has been a resident of Orange since the age of five and comes from a family which has been identified with Orange for several generations. He was educated in the public schools and the University of Maine and was creator of the Orange Players who for 12 years presented musical comedies throughout this section.

The new owner will assume control of the business at once and will operate with the same working personnel doing business under the name of the Enterprise and Journal company.

Success to you Mr. French.

For Humane Trapping

Humane trapping clubs will be organized throughout the state during the close season on fur bearing animals, that members may be instructed in setting traps which come under the so-called humane trapping act. Thus they will be ready for operation when the trapping season opens on Nov. 1. During the close season on fur bearers members or others who desire to learn the best method of trapping with humane traps may have an opportunity to use them on woodchucks or other animals which are not protected by law.

The movement is sponsored by the Humane Trapping Council, whose purpose is to uphold the trapping laws. The decision of the council came about through the organization of such a club in Oxford, following a period of successful trapping by Merton McKinstry, a young man of that town, with a well-developed knowledge of outdoor activities. Using only humane traps, mainly for skunks, Mr. McKinstry not only made a large number of catches, but declared the task far more easy than with any other kind of trap, not excepting the hanned steel-trap, which still exercises a strong appeal for the professional trapper. Acquaintances soon discovered McKinstry's success, with the result that a humane trapping club was organized.

Councilman Frank H. Washburn of Worcester, president of the Humane Trapping Council, said that that organization realizes a majority of trappers desire to obey the law. When they are shown that fur bearers may be taken as successfully with humane traps as with the unlawful steel trap, it is believed they will gladly use the humane device.

P. T. A. Activities Lively Organization

An interesting group of over fifty Parent-Teacher Association members and friends gathered in Alexander Hall on Monday evening to hear Mrs. M. E. Vorce and Mrs. Carroll Miller present the first of the series of lectures on "Our Money's Worth." A complete, inexpensive, well-balanced meal was prepared and served by the leaders. Much of value was also gained from individual members, each of whom gave some favorite, economical recipe, or example of thrifty buying.

The next meeting for those interested in this subject will be on Monday evening, March 18th, at 7.45 in the Town Hall basement. Mrs. M. D. Birdsal and Mrs. Elliott Speer will demonstrate and lecture on "Meats and Meat Substitutes." It is suggested that each one attending should bring her own plate, knife and fork, and a few pennies to cover the cost of the materials used.

Announcement was made of the sale of handcraft and other articles to be held by the combined 4-H Clubs of the town on March 17th in the Proctor Block store to raise money for camp funds.

The P. T. A. voted to help with a food sale, to raise money for the association's annual gift to the 4-H camp, and a committee was appointed for that purpose consisting of Mrs. Carroll Miller chairman, Mrs. M. E. Vorce, Mrs. L. A. Webber, Mrs. Fred Pallam, and Mrs. Clifford Field.

An interesting program is being planned for the April Parent-Teacher meeting, which will include a question box. Any one with any question to ask concerning the schools may drop it unsigned into the box, from which it will be drawn and read by the president, Mrs. Birdsal, and answered by the school superintendent, members of the school committee, or teachers.

County Sportsmen Hold Annual Session

The annual meeting of the Franklin County League of Sportsmen's clubs was held Thursday evening at the Weldon Hotel in Greenfield. A dinner was enjoyed and the meeting was well attended.

Among the speakers were: Director Raymond J. Kenney of the division of fish and game; Alfred Brown, president of the state council of Sportsmen's clubs; and the presidents of the several branches making up the county league. Recent changes in license laws, questions of stocking streams and coverts and topics of like nature were discussed.

Order De Molay Interest Local Masons

Harmony Lodge of Masons held their regular communication on Wednesday evening at the Masonic Hall on Parker Street with a good attendance. After the session of business the lodge by Wor. Master Walker W. Hyde welcomed the Greenfield Chapter Order of De Molay who held a session and worked the De Molay Degree for the edification of Master Masons. De Molay is the Masonic order for boys who are sons of Masons and a very worthy fraternal order of high ideals. The boys were given a generous reception and their work was very much appreciated.

Brattleboro Again Takes A Back Seat

Daylight Saving Time came up for a vote at Brattleboro Town Meeting last week and was defeated by a score of 889 to 670. Therefore Brattleboro time will be officially one hour behind Massachusetts and will cause much inconvenience to its neighbors and itself as in past summers. To those who have enjoyed the privileges of a longer day of sunlight it is hard to understand the attitude of the remonstrants. Northfield people really hope that at some time Brattleboro will be in accord with the prevailing idea here.

Speaks Of Japan

The Girls' Club meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fitt last Friday evening proved to be a most interesting session. Mrs. Russell Durgin who has spent considerable time in Japan with her husband who was Y.M.C.A. worker spoke of Japan and its people. She showed colored slides of modern Japan which she had collected while in that country and also displayed many objects of interest illustrating costume and household belongings of the Japanese.

Food Sale

There will be a sale of food, pies, cakes, etc., at the 4-H club sale Friday afternoon, March 17 in the vacant store in the Proctor Block. The following committee from the Parent-Teacher Association are in charge: Mrs. Carroll Miller, Mrs. Martin Vorce, Mrs. Louis Webber, Mrs. Clifford Field and Mrs. Fred Pallam.

Franklin D. Roosevelt while President in Washington will attend Stansbury Lodge No. 24 of Masons of which he is an honorary member. He was made an honorary member in 1919 when he laid the corner stone of their Temple.

A Fine Tribute Paid To Gill Citizen

Many will be interested to read of the fine tribute recently paid by the Town of Gill to Mr. Henry B. Barton who will be eighty years of age in May and who for forty-two years has served the Town of Gill as treasurer, also one term as representative in the General Assembly in 1908, and who since his twenty-first birthday has not missed a town meeting until March 6, when confined to his home by an illness which necessitates his declination to continue office. The following resolution is of interest:

Whereas, Mr. Henry B. Barton has for forty-two years served the Town of Gill as treasurer during which time he filled the exacting responsibilities without occasion for the slightest criticism from the citizens of the Town or the officials of the State, and has maintained the integrity of his office in such manner that he has become an example for other town treasurers throughout the State.

And whereas, during Mr. Barton's entire term of office, which has been longer than that of any other treasurer of the State, he has stood forth as a man of honorable character and high purpose whose counsel and judgment have always been sought by the citizens of Gill who have come to respect him for his sterling worth, honor him for his splendid qualities and love him for his sympathetic understanding.

Be it resolved that the citizens of the Town of Gill assembled in annual Town Meeting express to Mr. Barton their continued affection, their keen appreciation of and their deep gratitude for all that he has done for the Town, and their earnest hope that he may be spared many more years for counsel and advice, and their firm belief that his years of faithfulness will serve not only as an inspiration for his successor but as an example for other town officials throughout the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Be it further resolved that this tribute to Mr. Barton be spread upon the records of the Town and a copy be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Barton at their home in Riverside.

Locals

The Fish and Game Association has released 50 white rabbits this season. The open season closed on February 15 and will open next October. The rabbits have been released into the woods for the fall hunting. They were received from the state and were put out last week in various covers in all parts of town.

The Order of Eastern Star will hold its next meeting on March 15, and on Friday evening, March 17, a card party will be held at the Masonic Hall beginning at 7.45 p.m. All are invited to attend.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Relief corps was held at Alexander Hall last Friday afternoon. Plans for the work during the late winter and spring were discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Bolton have greatly improved the appearance of their attractive house in Mountain Park by the addition of green painted shutters.

The Northfield Star of the Seminary and The Hermonite of Mount Hermon School have both issued editions and they are full of interesting news to be circulated among the students.

That dance at Town Hall on Friday evening, March 17th (St. Patrick's day) promises to be a fine affair.

The Mount Hermon choir of 40 voices will give a concert of pre-Easter music at the Baptist church in Greenfield Sunday evening.

The Franklin County Herald a weekly paper, which printed its issue February 25, did not appear last Thursday for the second edition. The paper had an office on Main street in Greenfield, and the furniture was being removed last week. The printing of the first issue was from the Deerfield Press in South Deerfield.

The lecture on Sunday at Stoneleigh-Prospect Hill school by Miss Virginia Carolina Ruffin will be on music especially written for the harpsichord and other domestic keyboard instruments in England, France, Italy and Germany during the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries. She will play several pieces to illustrate her talk.

Henry F. Long, state commissioner of taxation and corporations, will be the speaker at the 24th annual meeting of the Franklin County Assessors' association held today at Greenfield and attended by the assessors of Northfield.

Mr. Gene Garvey of the McCauley Mission, New York City and Mr. William Adams of the Revere Mission, Utica, N. Y., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Roberts on Winchester Road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Newton and son, Aaron, motored to Boston, Sunday to spend the day with their daughter, Beatrice, who is a student nurse at Mount General hospital and their niece, Miss Isabel Newton, who is a science teacher at Simmons College.

Jitney Players Gave Fine Performance

The Jitney Players gave a fine performance and interpretation of Sheridan's "A Trip to Scarborough" last Saturday evening in Silverthorne Hall at Northfield Seminary. The hall was crowded and the large audience showed its appreciation.

It is seldom indeed that we get professional talent at Northfield and the Jitney Players had been long anticipated.

The story of the play in brief, concerned the proposed match of a penniless English Lord with a wealthy young woman whom he has never met. He is defrauded in his scheme by his very attractive younger brother who gains the lady for himself. Another strain running through the play tells of a couple whose marriage comes dangerously near to rocks but happily is saved just in time.

Personals

Mr. E. L. Morse was called to Worcester Mass. last week by the death of Mr. F. L. Nichols a relative.

Northfield friends of Sheriff and Mrs. Fred W. Dune will be interested to learn that their recent journey to Florida for a short vacation was made entirely by public bus lines. The trip one way was made in six days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Ray of Providence and summer residents of East Northfield who are on a motor trip to Florida have sent postals to friends here from Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Speer have been spending some time in New York as guests of Mrs. Speer's parents.

Mr. Mary A. Field has returned to her home in Northfield after an absence of several weeks.

Rev. Paul Moody, President of Middlebury College will preach the sermon next Sunday morning at Union College Schenectady, N. Y., at eleven o'clock and the entire service will be broadcast over WGY.

President Hoehn and Cashier Chapman of the Northfield Bank attended a Bankers' Meeting in Greenfield Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan were visitors to Northfield over last week end.

Miss Marion Webster will attend the National Music Supervisors' Conference at the Biltmore Hotel in Providence, R. I., next week Wednesday to Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woodbury of Barre, Mass., formerly of this town were guests Sunday of Mrs. Woodbury's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Miller on Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Coburn who spend the summers at East Northfield are at St. Petersburg, Florida and a card from them says they are enjoying the southern weather.

"Roast tenderloin of beef with mushroom sauce" was the inviting caption on the chef's "bill of fare" at the Northfield Hotel, Wednesday evening when quite a number of our local citizens were present to enjoy.

A number of persons from Northfield were guests of the Millers Falls Sportsman's Club Monday evening to hear an address by Edward J. Harriman, superintendent of school, Mr. Harriman is a native of Maine and spent practically all of his life there. Following the talk a luncheon was served.

Galen Stearns was reappointed Chief of the Northfield Fire Department by the Selectmen last week.

The meeting of the Historical Society which was scheduled for Tuesday night was postponed to a later date although several members went to the Library Hall to attend the session.

The Kindergarten opened by Miss Barbara Williams in the Bookstore Building is an interesting institution meeting daily with a large class in attendance. The hours are from 9.30 to 11 A. M.

Mt. Hermon Items

March 11 is the date announced for the annual senior class play which will be given as usual in Camp Hall. Carroll G. Ross is coaching the play.

Strand Mikkelsen Greenfield's champion ski jumper has been teaching many Hermon students during these days of snow clad hills the art of skiing.

The speaker last Sunday at Memorial Chapel was the Rev. Theodor C. Speers pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Utica N. Y.

EDITORIAL

One of the most dangerous measures ever entered in the Massachusetts Legislature is now pending at Boston—the proposal to legalize horse-race gambling at the fairs and racing meets in this Commonwealth. It is the same measure as last year, on which the law-abiding citizens of the State rallied so powerfully and killed the bill.

Among those who are fighting this dangerous measure is the Massachusetts State Grange.

Stated in plain language, this legislative attempt means simply this:—Selling the good name of the state for half a million dollars and throwing to the winds all effort to enforce one of the long-established laws of the Commonwealth. Is it possible that the citizens of Massachusetts will permit such an enactment when fully aroused as to its meaning?

Northfield citizens do your duty to Kill House Bill 760.

The Herald, ever since its first issue opened its "ad columns" to all and our Northfield merchants promptly availed themselves of the privilege of its publicity. Among those so advertising were the grocers of the community and they have been very loyal indeed in their patronage. Now in this emergency of a "bank holiday" they are voluntarily extending all credit within their power to our purchasing public and every consideration should be given them by all our people in their purchases for cash. Money used or rather spent with them is again re-circulated in Northfield to recreate business and not shipped elsewhere to bolster up another section. Give Your Northfield Independent Grocer Your Thoughtful Consideration.

Northfield with all other places in the state of Massachusetts and all other places in the United States is forced into an unpleasant situation of doing without bank facilities for a time owing to the proclamations of the Governor of the State and the President of the United States of a banking holiday. The action was taken in order to protect the interests of bank depositors and banks in the credit situation which had arisen from the effects of the depression. The situation calls for patience and calmness upon the part of the people and the upholding of our President's endeavor to stabilize the nation's financial structure.

Rev. Dr. F. W. Cutler

The Rev. Dr. Frederick W. Cutler of Morristown, N. J., died last Saturday in New York City after a brief illness at the age of 72. He has been a frequent visitor to Northfield and its religious conferences.

Dr. Cutler, who was born in Morristown, retired seven years ago as pastor of the First Dutch Reformed Church of Yonkers, N. Y. He was a descendant of Brig. Gen. Joseph Cutler, who served in the war of 1812. He was a member of the class of 1882 at Rutgers College, the Society of the Sons of the Revolution and the Founders and Patriots of America. There are no immediate relatives.

Dr. Cutler's family were very prominent in public work and life. His father was Judge of a court in New Jersey and his three sons by profession were a lawyer, a doctor and a minister. The Editor of The Herald had often heard of the remark that this family fought the world, the flesh and the devil.

TREES

There's something noble in a tree,
A splendor and majesty
Akin to things divine.
A beauty and a sanctity,
A sweetness and reality
Harmoniously combine.
When I behold a stately tree,
Impressive in immensity,
My head in reverence bends
With spreading arms raised over me
In spiritual solemnity
Its benediction sends.
When winds disport among the leaves,
In summer time, of verdant trees,
They sing a beautiful strain.
A soothing sound, like hum of bees,
So soft, that with their harmonies,
They banish earthly pain.
No matter what my mood may be
My best companion is a tree
When I am far afield.
A great delight it is to me
To listen and to aim to see
The truth that it can yield.
The tongues of trees they speak to me
In wondrous tones of sympathy
From sin and sorrow free,
They creep into this soul of mine
Revealing secrets high sublime
Told only by a tree.

Northfield Traditions

Verse Writing, in Early Days

It was a hundred and thirty-two years after the Pilgrims came that the American colonies produced a poet who wrote well enough to be included in the rather broadly made list in the "Oxford Book of American Verse." (Published by Boni, N. Y.) The early settlers who were poetic confined their writings to political, Biblical and moral themes. In 1762 Philip Freneau was born in New York City and he produced some high quality verse, though he and his writings are now generally forgotten. There was scant encouragement for literature, in early days, unless it praised or imitated some moral or religious work. The earlier rhymes have been lost in a multitude of tracts.

Yet the poetic impulse, lacking the printed page as a channel, flowed where it might. A century ago one of the Fairman family, whose descendants still live in Vernon, presented to the selectmen of Bernardston a poem of remonstrance against an over-assessment of his property for taxation purposes. Its wit and satire were undeniable.

"Much of the spelling on grave stones which modern readers suppose to be proof of illiteracy was correct when engraved. A world of pathos is shown on some of the stones, where, 'writ with little skill in song-craft, full of hope and yet of heart-ache' the people of a time of cruel theology expressed the impulses of kindly hearts. There is an epitaph at Vernon, in the Whited burial ground, written by Rev. Bunker Gay, who wrote most epitaphs in his day for that locality, which shows this trait of gentle appreciation of goodness. It was for Dill Elmer, a man of less mental endowment than his fellows, who died in 1804 at the age of sixty-five. It reads:

"Tranquil and silent here lies Dill, What gifts he had he managed well. He did his best to merit fame And left behind him a good name. Remember Dill and do the same." In 1755 Caleb Howe was killed by the Indians in what is now Vernon, and his wife and his seven children were taken captive to Canada. Her youngest child perished of hunger and exposure during her captivity. Her oldest, a daughter, married a French gentleman moved to France and never came back to New England. She and the other children returned. Her first husband, William Phipps, had been killed by Indians in 1743. She married, a third time; Amos Tute and had a son, Jonathan. This boy died when fourteen years old, from an inoculation, then common, with small-pox. The boys epitaph has been quoted far and wide for many years. One part reads:

"Born on the 12th of May was he In 1763 To Death he fell a helpless Prey April the five and twentieth Day In seventeen hundred seventy seven Quitting this world, we hope, for Heaven." An another portion reads: "Alas! what human tongue can tell The Mother's Grief her Anguish show Or paint the father's heavier woe Who now no natural offspring has His ample fortune to possess To fill his place, stand in his stead Or bear his name when he is dead." Mrs. Tute, the mother of this boy, died in 1805, at the age of eighty-two. She had outlived her three husbands and all of her nine children. Her epitaph concludes with the lines:

"Having passed through more vicissitudes and endured more hardships than any of her contemporaries. No more can savage foes annoy Nor aught her wide spread fame destroy." The prophecy has proved true. The "Fair Captive" has a secure place in the history of our nation. When the praise of the dead, or the history to be preserved, was too long for the tolls of lettering of stones, eulogies were written. The most famous is that written by Rev. Bunker Gay, about 232 lines, upon the death of Ensign Samuel Stratton, who died in 1803. It is preserved in the history of Vernon, in the Heminway "History of Vermont."

TO GLORIFY BREAKFAST

Toast and coffee and the morning paper!

Coffee and toast and the morning paper!

Ho hum! That's the great American breakfast—prepared with misgivings, swallowed in haste, not remembered long enough even to be repented.

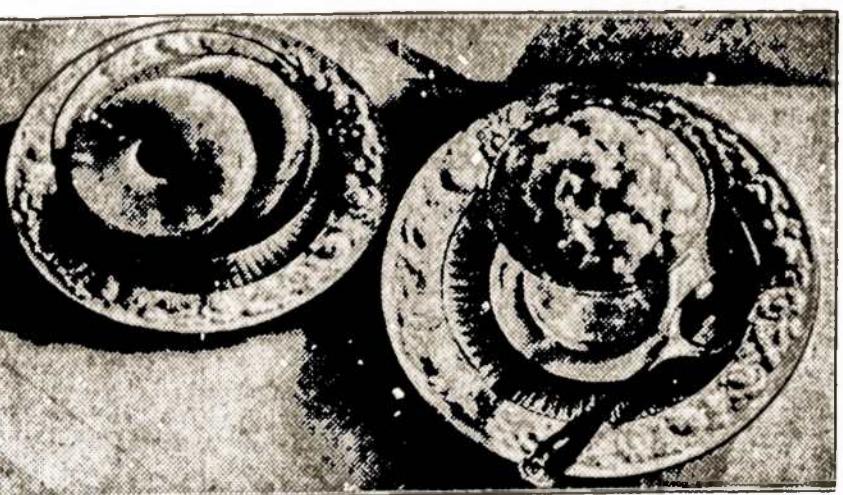

It is perhaps a great pity that the days when American breakfasts were mighty affairs, suited to pioneering activities, are gone forever. Yet there are still ways to arouse even lagging modern breakfast appetites.

One is to add the delicious tang of pineapple to the morning meal. And nutritional studies have recently revealed a definite health reason for the addition. For canned pineapple has been found to be a generous source of vitamins A, B, and C and five essential minerals. It is also revealed as an aid to the digestion of proteins such as meat and eggs and to the prevention and relief of acidosis.

So here is a modern breakfast suited to modern needs—appealing to the appetite, healthful and simple to prepare—two slices of pineapple, a cereal if desired, two poached eggs on toast, and coffee.

PINEAPPLE TAKES NEW ROLE

Canned pineapple, familiar food delicacy on the American table for so many years, is seen today in a new role. New food research has found that canned pineapple is a valuable source of five necessary minerals and vitamins A, B, and C. Authorities recommend two slices or an equivalent amount in crushed pineapple or tidbits in the daily menu as an aid in maintaining height. Its addition to the breakfast menu content pineapple has to be a valuable aid to and eggs and to the prevention and relief of acidosis. A beneficial dietetic change wrought by temperatures during the canning process is said to make these findings true of the canned rather than the raw fruit. Smart hostesses following the new dietetic advice, are serving the new pineapple cup made from the canned crushed fruit or tidbits as the first course for dinner, luncheon salad or for the dinner dessert. And their guests proclaim it delicious.

A SUPPER TO SING FOR!

If the sugar-plum tree should come to life! And honey-dew come from the magic pitcher—wouldn't supper times be jolly for five and seven years olds!

A supper that has all the charm of the sugar-plums and the honey-dew has for dessert a cup of crushed canned pineapple, cool and sweet. Never was anything so good to eat nor so good for growing boys and girls. For nutritional research has recently found canned pineapple to be a valuable source of five minerals essential to health, as well as a valuable source of vitamins A, B, and C—a discovery that makes the task of mothers much simpler. The delicate flavor and color of pineapple are especially appealing to children. Pineapple is a food which rightly belongs in their own world of magic goodness. When it is served simply—a generous bowlful of crushed pineapple—it is a treat which young Mary and Johnny find suited to the most epicurean tastes. Two slices a day of a cup of crushed fruit is the amount recommended to aid in the maintenance of health and growth.

Trinitarian Church

Communion service was held at the North church on Sunday morning. In the evening there was a sacred concert by the choir conducted by Prof. Irving J. Lawrence, which was attended by a large congregation. The concert was preceded by a meeting in the Christian Endeavor rooms at which over 100 young people heard Mr. Adams, superintendent of the Gospel Mission of Ulster, N. Y., and Eugene Garvey of Macaulay Mission of New York city in an evangelical service.

Neighborhood meetings this week were held at West Northfield at the home of Mrs. Laurie Harris; at the home of Mrs. Bennett at the Farms; at the Barber District at the home of Mrs. Glen Lamphear. A preaching service was held at Northfield Farms Wednesday evening and on Thursday evening was held the regular church prayer meeting.

South Church Notes

The Lenten program at the Northfield Unitarian Church centers in its services on Sunday mornings in subjects concerning the great experiences in the life of Jesus. Last Sunday's subject was of "Jesus in the Wilderness," next Sunday "Jesus by the Sea," March 19th "Jesus in the City," March 26 "Jesus on the Mountain." Rev. Mary Andrews Conner states in her Lenten message that "We need to know more about spiritual laws. We need to study the life of the spiritual Master, that we may live on a higher plane."

The slide pictures and story for Sunday evening 7:30 will be "The Miracle Man" which reveals the effect of a Christ-like personality on the lives of those it touched, helping to restore their health, their moral character, and religious faith. This picture shows also that there is in every one of us those intent on evil, something that responds to real goodness in another man. A silver offering will be taken.

For Episcopalians

Services at St. James church in Greenfield, are being held in a special bulletin for the Lenten season. On Sundays:—Holy Communion at 8 A. M. morning prayer and sermon 10:45 A. M. Evening prayer and address 5 P. M.; on Wednesdays, Communion 7:45 A. M. Morning prayer and litany 10:30 A. M. Evening prayer and sermon 7:30 P. M.; on Fridays, morning prayer and litany is at 10:30 A. M. Evening prayer 4 P. M.

Seminary Items

The Reverend Harold E. Nicely, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church of East Orange, New Jersey, will be the speaker at both the 11 and 5 services in Russell Sage Chapel at the Seminary on Sunday, March 12th.

On Saturday evening, March 4th the Seminary Seniors entertained their classmates of Mount Hermon at a party in Skinner Gymnasium, which was gaily decorated with balloons. Soft lights and the music of radio, victrola and piano, furnished the aesthetic part of the evening. The guests were entertained during the latter part of the evening by the Jitney Players' presentation of Sheridan's "A Trip to Scarborough."

On March 22 in Philips Hall at 4:15 o'clock the final poetry reading contest will be held. Plans for the program are as yet not formulated, but there will probably be one poem chosen for each contestant to read. Eight girls will take part in the reading, two from each class.

Preparations for the Spring Book Week are already in full swing. The Book Week Celebration of April 4-8th will include a Shakespearean festival in honor of literature's most immortal creator. An exhibition of Shakespearean books and pictures will give atmosphere to the library; poetry reading from Shakespeare's works, a composition contest on Shakespearean drama, and a play by the classes in English IV will be the outstanding events of this celebration.

The ninth annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association will be held at Columbia University March 9, 10 and 11, with school editors, staff members and faculty advisers from all parts of the nation in attendance. The Northfield Star of the Seminary will be represented.

The new Bigger and Better Boston Sunday Advertiser can now be obtained at Northfield Pharmacy. It contains EXCLUSIVE features for every member of the family. . . 12 page comic section in color. . . the American Weekly Magazine. . . more news and more pages than ever before.

High School Notes

A week or so ago we had the pleasure of hearing one of the State doctors who showed three reels of moving pictures on health. In her interesting talk she spoke of establishing in our school a Student Health Council. We have taken her advice. Those serving on the Student Council for the first period are: Laura Martineau, Polly Podlanski, Mary Silva, Christine Gray, Victor Vaughan, Joe Butinski and Stanley Newton. This group has complete authority. Those disobeying the rules will receive the penalty given by the Council which will act as a Court of Judgment. Natalie Briesmaster and Barbara Cota are serving on the Poster Committee of this Health Council.

Friday morning at Assembly Dr. Wright gave an interesting talk with demonstrations, by some of the Boy Scouts, on taking care of sprains and broken bones, when accidents occur away from home and on camping trips. He gave a fine outline of what we should do in emergency cases, such as, the swallowing poisons, removing foreign bodies from the eye, nose bleeds, fainting, sunstroke, drowning, electric shocks, burns and how to take care of various insect bites. I am sure that everyone was benefited by this talk and we thank Dr. Wright.

The girls in the Home Nursing Class on Friday were taught how to make doughnut rings which are used for sick persons to relieve them from pressure.

On Monday afternoon, Professor Duley from the Seminary gave us a splendid talk on current topics of the day. Among his topics, he gave a most interesting summary of the trouble which has been going on in China and Japan.

Boy Scout News

The Boy Scouts held a meeting last Friday evening. The Tigers won the Patrol Contest for February with 79 points. The Eagles were second with 74 points. The Wolves were third with 71 points. It seems as though the Wolves always are last. By winning, the Tigers are placed in the front line when the patrols fall in. The Eagles had been in first place and will be very likely to remain there.

There was a party last Saturday night to which the Boy Scouts were supposed to bring their finances but only a few (about 20) showed up. Those who went had a pretty good time.

Four boys received merit badges at the Court of Honor held at Deerfield February 24, 1933. They were Win. Purvis, John Larnatowits, and John Hurley, Personal Health and Public Health, Ralph Kervian received a Civics Merit Badge.

Speed-a-Way 4-H Club

We held our sixth meeting on Friday March 3 at the home of our leader, Mrs. Russell Hale.

The president called the meeting to order, and the secretary had the roll call. We said the club pledge. Hazel Hammond gave a talk and demonstration on "Courtship".

The remainder of the meeting we turned to work. We made vases, to put in our exhibit, which we will show in the Proctor Block window. We also have made very attractive pillow tops from bur-lap bags woven with bright colored yarn, book marks of little men and women, bibs, aprons and holders. Our sale will be with the other 4-H Clubs of the town for the camp fund.

Barbara Mankowsky, Reporter

Everready Club

The Everready 4-H Club will have their display this next week at the show windows in Proctor Block. On Friday, March 17th, there will be a sale of articles made by the club members.

We offer bird houses and broom holders. The bird houses will sell at the usual price of 50c each and the broom holders at 15c each or 2 for 25c. These can also be used for wet and dry mops. They will make the brooms wear longer, look better and will more than pay for themselves in a short time. Places where they may be used to advantage are back room, back porch, cellar, barn and garage. The club will appreciate orders for

Tomorrow CHEVROLET presents
THE WORLD'S LOWEST-PRICED
FULL-SIZE SIX-CYLINDER ENCLOSED CARS
A NEW AND ADDITIONAL LINE OF CHEVROLET SIXES

Another great new line of cars from the leader! Tomorrow, Chevrolet introduces, as an addition to its present Master Six, the new Standard Six line. Big, full-size, full-length automobiles. Built to Chevrolet standards of quality . . . performance . . . dependability . . . and economy. And selling at the lowest prices ever placed on six-cylinder enclosed motor cars.

The styling is modern, aer-stream styling . . . ultra-smart and up-to-the-minute. The bodies are Fisher wood-and-steel bodies—spacious, tastefully finished—and featuring Fisher No Draft Ventilation. The wind-shields have safety plate glass. The transmission has an easy, clashless shift and a silent second gear. The engine is a smooth, fast, responsive six. And Chevrolet engineers have made economy an outstanding feature! Engineering tests show that the Standard Six goes more miles on a gallon of gas, more on a filling of oil, than will any other full-size car on the road. As for reliability—remember, it's a Chevrolet.

Introduction of this new Standard Six opens the way for new thousands of people to enjoy the advantages of Chevrolet quality. It gives the public, for the first time, a full-size automobile combining maximum quality and maximum all-round economy.

Don't Get Up Nights
Make This 25c Test

You need this easy bladder physio to drive out impurities and excess acids which cause irritation that results in leg pains, backache, burning and retching up nights. BUCKETS, the bladder physio, containing buchu, juniper oil, etc., works on the bladder pleasantly and effectively, similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box (5 grain size) from your druggist. After four days, if not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. You are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep.

Harry L. Olinas, Druggist says BUCKETS is a best seller.—Adv.

Neighborhood News

Bernardston

Miss Edith Ayer of Orange has been a recent guest of Miss Ruth Stoddard.

Miss Louise Truesdell of Hartford, Conn., spent the week-end with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Truesdell.

Mr. Frederickson of Greenfield has moved his family into Myron Barber's tenement.

The inventory of the estate of Stella McClure of Bernardston has been filed in probate court and shows personal property to the amount of $1,661.28 and no real estate.

Eugene Garvey of the Water Street Mission, New York City, and Mr. Adams of the Rescue Mission of Utica, N. Y. were speakers at the Goodale United Church services last Sunday.

Mrs. Blinn of Monson is keeping house for Morris Cutting on South Street.

The Central Filling Station has been opened by Mr. Shrieve of Greenfield, who has leased the place for a year.

Economy in town government was the watchword among this town's voters assembled in town meeting Monday and general appropriations were reduced about $2500. As a result the town's street lights will be turned off at 1 o'clock every night; salaries of town officers were slashed 20 per cent and the school department appropriation cut $1,000.

The following officers were named: Fred A. Wright, moderator; Henry L. Crowell, town clerk and treasurer; Melvin A. Denison, John W. Chapin and Walter C. Grover, selectmen; Percy Buchanan, tax collector; W. H. Root, assessor; Paul B. Shores, school committee; Lynn A. Wyatt, Elliott Root, Myron E. Barber, auditors; Edith Barber, Edith Magoon, F. E. H. Allen, W. H. Root, George L. Wyatt, one year to fill vacancy of unexpired term of Egbert Cairns, library trustees; Kenneth Howard, tree warden; Everett J. Slate, Almon Flagg, Edwin Damon and Raymond Deane, constables; R. E. Franklin, Fred R. Miller, H. T. Slate, Fred A. Wright and F. W. Putnam to fill unexpired term of E. C. Martindale and C. H. Whitaker to fill unexpired term of Egbert Cairns, Powers Institute trustees.

The following appropriations were made: Total, $3,100, (approximately); general officers salaries, $1800; fire protection, $290; welfare, $1200; health, $500; schools, $17,000; highways and bridges, $3,000; street lighting, $850; library, $55.11; Memorial day, $75; snow removal, $500; incidentals, $700; insurance, $400; moth suppression, $350; old age assistance, $1800; printing, $225; sealer of weights and measures, $75; town hall, $800; tractor maintenance, $150; overdrafts, $547.66; damages for state, $500; ballot box, $70; road grader, $600; and public safety, $350.

Gill

Mrs. Victoria Rau announces the marriage of her daughter Sadie L. Rau to Mr. Luther S. Eddy a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peleg W. Eddy of Gill.

The ceremony was performed February 22nd at the Congregational parsonage in Shelburne Falls by Rev. Joseph O. Purdue. The couple were unattended. The single ring service was used. Mr. and Mrs. Eddy will make their home in Gill.

Alton LeVitre of Gill, a student at Powers Institute, is ill at his home with double pneumonia. Anna Long of Gill has transferred to Anna Schneider of Montague, certain property in Turners Falls.

C. O. Bruce, Herbert L. Barton and George E. Hastings won out in the contest for selectmen at the town election and Prof. R. L. Watson of Hermon was elected Tax Collector. Prof. Roy Hatch of Hermon was again re-elected to the School Committee.

The Gill town meeting Monday acted as follows:—

Richard L. Watson was moderator and Earl Squires was elected town clerk and treasurer. R. L. Watson was elected tax collector; Roy R. Hatch, three years and Kendall L.
